Upayn 2025

By the team

If you're reading this, consider it a little ripple of connection from all of us at Deepastambha Charitable Trust to you—wherever you are, however far. Pratirav was born to keep our voices, stories, and dreams echoing in your heart, even when life keeps you from joining us in person. And in this issue, that echo is particularly vibrant.

The spotlight this time is on Upayn—our annual celebration of giving. But calling it just a donation drive would be like calling a rainbow “just weather.” With over 14 types of donations under one roof, Upayn brings people together not just to give, but to give meaningfully. Whether it's books, clothes, food, time, or simply a listening ear—every act counts, and every donor becomes a doer of change. We're proud to say this year's Upayn was not just successful—it was soul-stirring.

But that's not all. In this issue, you'll also find an article close to our hearts—an inspiring glimpse into our recent digital water management activity. With a mix of tech and tradition, we worked alongside students and villagers who took the reins of their water resources into their own hands. From mapping usage to managing scarcity, it was a lesson in sustainability—and in community spirit. Who says you need superpowers to save the world? Sometimes, a smartphone and a spreadsheet will do.

Above all, this issue celebrates the volunteers. The ones who show up, dig in, and lift up others without expecting anything in return. Pratirav is, in many ways, their voice too—a tribute to every smile behind the scenes.

So, grab a cup of chai, settle in, and flip through pages filled with purpose, passion, and people power.

Digital Water Management Project

How Students and Villages Took Charge of Water!

On a warm Friday morning, March 28th, 2025, something special happened at Indradhanushya Environmental Hall in Pune. Around 300 students from schools and colleges, along with volunteers and villagers, came together for the Award Ceremony of the Digital Water Management Project — a project that wasn't just about collecting data, but about caring for something we all depend on: water.

So, what exactly was this project about? Simply put, it was about helping people understand how we use water, how we waste it, and how we can save it. The project gave young minds and rural communities a chance to actually work on the ground level using mobile apps, weather kits, and testing tools to check the condition of water in their villages.

The main purpose behind starting this project was to change the way we think about water. Not just for today, but for the future. We wanted to make sure people understand how valuable water is and how our small habits — leaving the tap running, ignoring leaks, wasting clean water — all add up. If we want our future generations to have enough water, we need to start acting today.

The aim was to guide everyone in understanding different aspects of water: Where does it come from? Is it clean? Is it enough for drinking or farming? Using digital tools like GIS maps and mobile apps, participants learned how to test groundwater, surface water, wastewater, even soil and weather data. The project wasn't just theory — it was practical, hands-on, and real.

The award ceremony was our way of saying "Thank you" and "Well done" to these incredible students, teachers, and villagers.

Representatives from all knowledge partners along with school teachers and college professors.

Groups from 4 schools and 5 colleges shared their work through live presentations. Judges, mentors, and guests were amazed at the clarity and confidence with which the students explained their findings. From checking water quality to observing rainfall patterns, every group had a story — and a solution. This ceremony wasn't about prizes alone — it was about recognizing real effort and encouraging these young change-makers.

And what impact did this all have? A big one! In 9 villages of Pune district, students and villagers now know how to test drinking water, check for soil microbes, and even read weather trends. They're taking real steps to manage water better — storing rainwater, reducing wastage, improving sanitation. More than that, this project sparked curiosity, awareness, and community spirit. People didn't just learn — they cared.

In the end, this wasn't just a project. It was a movement. It showed that when people come together — with heart, tools, and purpose — even a drop of change can create ripples across villages.

Upayn 2025 – Dan Durg

Not just a donation camp. A whole philosophy.

Upayn—while it may trace its roots to the Sanskrit word for “donation in the form of a gift”—has grown into something far bigger than just its definition. It isn’t just a word, and it certainly isn’t just a camp. It’s a philosophy. An experience. A force that brings together kindness, coordination, and community spirit under one roof. And this year, that roof had 14 pillars—14 different donation types offered in one vibrant, unforgettable space.

For visitors and donors, Upayn 2025 was a one-stop donation camp—books, clothes, toys, blood, hair, and more. Having 14 partner agencies working in harmony under one tent? That’s not just logistics—it’s magic. But what you see on the surface is only part of the story.

What few see is the engine behind the curtain: the countless hours, the brainstorming marathons, the coordination chaos that somehow turns into smooth execution. Every hurdle was met not with panic, but with patience and partnership.

This year’s theme—Dan Durg—merged “Dan” (donation) and “Durg” (fort). Why a fort, you ask? Because we wanted donors and visitors to feel something as they walked in—not just attend. The venue, Magenta Lawns, was transformed into a fort-like space, echoing resilience, grandeur, and legacy. Our decoration team worked like artists with armor—obsessing over every color scheme, angle, and detail to ensure that the experience felt royal and rooted.

And what's a fort without its messengers? Awareness was key. From hills to housing societies, posters to personal conversations, our volunteers left no stone—or street—turned. You may have seen us at Vetar Tekdi, Karishma Lane, Tathawade Park, or Taljai Hills. Or perhaps on Instagram, WhatsApp, or LinkedIn. Our social media and on-ground teams worked hand-in-hand (and phone-in-hand) to reach over 10,000 people.

Visitors at the baby clothes donation booth

We even took Upayn to institutions and companies—BMCC, corporates, apartment complexes—all in the name of connecting more people to the cause. Every conversation was a doorway. Every poster, a promise.

What made this year even more special? A beautiful blend of energies. Volunteers from Deepastambha Charitable Trust, five students from SPPU's NGO program, corporate professionals, and a bunch of spirited 8th and 9th graders who joined in through our summer camp. The kids learned real-world skills—communication, coordination, compassion—and reminded us all that the future looks bright.

So, did we give to Upayn? Certainly. But Upayn gave us something, too.

It gave us lessons we'll carry for life. Stories that will stay close to the heart. And above all, a reminder that giving isn't just about what you hand over—but what you take back in meaning, connection, and joy. back in meaning, connection, and joy.

Because Upayn isn't just about donating things. Sometimes, Upayn is the gift itself.

उपायन २०२५ - एक अविस्मरणीय अनुभव

दीपस्तंभ चॅरिटेबल ट्रस्टच्या अनेक उपक्रमांपैकी एक मोठा आणि सगळ्या volunteers चा आवडता उपक्रम म्हणजे 'उपायन'. उपायनमुळे एकाच छताखाली विविध प्रकारचे दान करण्याचा आणि समाजाप्रती असलेलं आपलं कर्तव्य करण्याचा आनंद सर्वांना घेता येतो.

उपायनच्या या १७ व्या वर्षी, मागच्या १६ वर्षांपेक्षा काहीतरी वेगळं करण्याची आमची इच्छा होती. म्हणूनच यावर्षी ८वी आणि ९वीतल्या मुलांसाठी एक summer camp घ्यायचं ठरवलं. लहानपणीच मुलांची समाजकार्याची आणि दान करण्याची वृत्ती निर्माण व्हावी हाच त्यामागचा उद्देश होता. Calling, Awareness, Decoration आणि इतरही सगळ्या गोष्टींमध्ये मुलं अगदी उत्साहाने सहभागी झाली.

'Be A Volunteer' या campaign द्वारे वेगवेगळ्या बागा, टेकड्या आणि कॉलेजमध्ये awareness केला आणि त्यातून अनेक नवीन Volunteers उपायन मार्फत दीपस्तंभशी जोडले गेले.

यावर्षी उपायनचे awareness campaigns जवळपास महिनाभर आधी सुरु झाले होते. त्यामुळे उपायन अधिक प्रभावीपणे लोकांपर्यंत पोहोचू शकले.

दरवर्षी आम्ही उपायनची एक वेगळी theme घेऊन लोकांसमोर येतो.. यावर्षीच्या ' दानदुर्ग ' या theme नुसार Decoration ची तयारी अगदी आधीपासूनच अतिशय उत्साहात सुरु झाली. सगळ्या Volunteers ने प्रचंड मेहनत घेतली आणि त्यामुळेच उपायनचा venue अगदी आकर्षक बनला!

या decorations मुळे दान करणाऱ्यांना फक्त दानाचा आनंदच मिळाला नाही, तर त्याबरोबरच किल्ल्यांविषयी रंजक माहितीदेखील मुलांकडून जाणून घेता आली.

Summer Camp मधल्या सगळ्या मुलांनी आधीचे १० दिवस आणि उपायनच्या दिवशीही खूप मजा केली. रविवारी संध्याकाळी, Camp संपल्यानंतर कोणालाही तिथून निघावसं वाटतच नव्हतं!

या ११ दिवसांच्या Summer Camp मधून मुलांनी आत्मविश्वास, संयम, संवादकौशल्य आणि नेतृत्वगुण अशा अनेक गोष्टी आत्मसात केल्या - ज्या Team मध्ये काम करताना खूप महत्वाच्या असतात.

यावर्षी सर्वच प्रकारच्या दानांना अतिशय उत्तम प्रतिसाद

तयारीत मग्न स्वयंसेवकांचा एक खास क्षण!

मिळाला. विशेषतः केसदान, नेत्रदान, स्टेमसेल आणि अवयवदान यासारख्या महत्त्वाच्या दानांचा मोठ्या प्रमाणात awareness झाला.

अवयवदान जागरूकता केंद्रावरील अभ्यागत

उपायनसारख्या मोठ्या project ची Project Manager म्हणून काम करताना माझ्यातही अनेक बदल घडून आले.

बाहेरच्या लोकांबरोबर, सर्व वयोगटातल्या Volunteers बरोबर, संवाद साधण्याचा, सगळ्यांना समजून घेऊन एकत्र काम करण्याचा उत्तम अनुभव मिळाला. माझ्या संवादकौशल्यात आणि निर्णयक्षमतेतही वाढ झाली.

आणि सगळ्यात महत्वाचं म्हणजे खरी Management म्हणजे काय असते हे मला उपायन मुळे कळलं.

ह्यामुळे इतरही अनेक गोष्टी शिकायला मिळाल्या, उत्तम अनुभव मिळाले!!

उपायन २०२५ अगदी सगळ्यांच्याच कायम लक्षात राहिल – पण आता उत्सुकता पुढच्या अनेक उपायनची!

Upayn 2025 – A Celebration of Giving

Volunteers at the inauguration of Upayn 2025

Upayn 2025, organized by Deepastambha Charitable Trust, unfolded as a day filled with compassion, collaboration, and community spirit. Starting at dawn, volunteers assembled with unmatched energy to set up the donation counters and decorate the venue with the theme “DaanDurg,” symbolizing strength and generosity inspired by Maharashtrian forts.

The day began with the ceremonial breaking of a coconut, followed by a briefing by the project managers—Radha, Sharvari, and Adarsh. Volunteers, buzzing with excitement, took charge of their assigned stations, ready to welcome the steady stream of donors that began arriving soon after.

Fourteen types of donations were accepted—from blood, clothes, toys, utensils, and books, to unique contributions like hair, organ pledges, and even joy jars. Each corner of the camp was a small universe of kindness, echoing stories of selflessness and warmth. Volunteers guided and comforted people, some first-time donors, others veterans in giving.

The blood donation drive marked an early success, while the clothing and book counters saw overwhelming participation. Student volunteers from MIT College also proudly launched a book they had written and published, becoming a symbol of how youth can blend creativity with purpose.

Midday offered a brief respite. Volunteers shared a delicious lunch and bonded over small moments of laughter and rest before rotating roles for the second half of the day. The event's atmosphere only deepened as light rain and a cool breeze set in, refreshing everyone physically and emotionally. Hot tea and snacks reenergized the team for the evening rush. By 7:30 PM, all donations were cataloged and carefully loaded into transport vehicles, headed toward their respective beneficiary organizations. The day ended on a high note with a feedback session, group photo, and the felicitation of the hardworking PMs by the Jankalyan Foundation.

What stood out most was the spirit of giving—raw, pure, and contagious. Upayn 2025 wasn't just a donation camp; it was a reminder of how a collective effort can bring about real change, one donation at a time.

Through the Lens: Capturing the Spirit of Upayn 2025

Volunteering as the photographer for Deepastambha's Upayn Donation Camp on May 11th offered a unique and meaningful perspective on the day's events.

Our day began bright and early at 6:30 a.m., as we gathered to bring the theme of Daandurga to life through vibrant decorations and by setting up the various donation stations. There was an unmistakable buzz of energy among us volunteers as we worked together to prepare the venue for the hours ahead.

Once the camp officially opened at 9:00 a.m., the space quickly filled with donors — each carrying their contributions with a clear sense of purpose. It was deeply inspiring to witness the community coming together in such a meaningful and united way.

Volunteers helping set up donation booths

Young visitor at the joy donation booth

As the photographer, my role was to capture the moments that often pass unnoticed — the warm smiles of those handing over donations, the quiet guidance of volunteers assisting at each station, and the overall atmosphere of compassion and generosity that filled the air. Some of the most touching scenes included individuals participating in the blood donation drive, children at the hair donation booth, and people taking a moment to pledge their eyes or organs for future donation. With each click of the shutter, I hoped to preserve the emotion and sincerity behind these acts of giving.

Although I wasn't stationed at a particular donation table, being behind the lens allowed me to see the bigger picture — quite literally. I witnessed the growing piles of books, clothes, toys, and essentials at the Joy Donation station, and felt a genuine sense of pride knowing the impressive impact we were collectively creating. The statistics were just numbers, but behind each one was a story, a face, and a generous heart.

The event's seamless execution was a credit to the project managers — Radha, Sharvari, and Adarsh — whose coordination and vision ensured everything ran smoothly.

Their leadership made it possible for volunteers like me to focus entirely on our roles, and for donors to have a welcoming, organized experience.

By the end of the day, tired but fulfilled, I felt incredibly proud to have contributed to such a well-organized and impactful initiative. Upayn truly felt like the annual celebration of giving that it is meant to be — and capturing its spirit through photography was both a joy and a privilege.

Volunteer Feedback

Humbled and inspired after attending today's donation event-14 different ways to give, each with the power to change or even save lives. From organ and stem cell donation to eye and hair donation, the awareness stalls reminded me how simple acts of giving can create profound impact. Grateful for the chance to witness humanity at its most generosity.

Hello I am Arushi and I played a part in this year's Upayn. For context, Upayn is a donation camp which is organised and assembled by Deepastambha which is a public and social welfare institution. I was a volunteer and included in its 10 day guidance summer camp conclave. It was a wonderful experience as well as working with such a supportive and amazing staff was a delightful feeling. All the mentors and organisers were very direct, erudite and encouraging. Reassurance, empathy and proficiency was increased after I personally had a talk with a few of the omniscient and wise advice. Overall, my dream is to join this place because this is a paradise for curious and loquacious people like me. This camp was an outgrowth of dedication, determination, guidance and knowledge of many people. Cheers to Deepastambha!!

-Arushi Tendulkar,
Volunteer, Deepastambha Charitable Trust.

visiting Upayn with Deepastambha was a poignant reminder that charity is not always big-it's sometimes small, intimate, and supremely human. with 14 distinct means of giving-such as clothes donation, utensils registration, books donation-I was reminded how giving can literally save or alter lives.

Every stall was not only informative, it was a gateway to the lives we have the ability to touch with compassion and understanding. It's amazing the kind of impact we can make by simply deciding to care.

Privileged to have been involved in something so significant.

अमन्त्रमक्षरं नास्ति नास्ति मूलमनौषधम् ।
अयोग्यः पुरुषो नास्ति योजकस्तत्र दुर्लभः ॥

दीपस्तंभच्या कार्यालयात आल्यावर तिथे लिहिलेले हे सुभाषित वाचले.

खरंतर, हे सुभाषित मी इयत्ता आठवीच्या प्रथम सत्रात शाळेमध्ये शिकलो होतो. साधारण त्याचा अर्थ आम्हाला असा सांगितला होता की, 'कुठल्याही अक्षरात मंत्र नाही असे होत नाही, कुठल्याही वनस्पतीत औषध नाही असे नाही, कुठलीही व्यक्ती पूर्णपणे अयोग्य नाही, आणि शेवटच्या अर्ध्या चरणामध्ये सुभाषितकार म्हणतात की, योग्य नियोजन करणारा मात्र दुर्लभ आहे' म्हणजे सगळे आहे फक्त त्याचे योग्य नियोजन करणारा दुर्मिळ आहे, असा सुभाषिताचा शब्दशः अर्थ मी शिकलो. परंतु जेव्हा दीपस्तंभचा हा समर कॅम्प मी केला, त्यावेळी मला योग्य नियोजनाचा अर्थ प्रत्यक्ष अनुभवातून समजून घेता आला. म्हणजे कोणतही कार्य असो, मग ते सामाजिक असो, आर्थिक असो, शैक्षणिक असो, कौटुंबिक असो.. कोणत्याही प्रकारच्या कार्यामध्ये नियोजन हे किती महत्त्वाचे आहे, ही गोष्ट मला प्रामुख्याने दीपस्तंभच्या या उन्हाळी शिबिरामध्ये शिकायला मिळाली. खरंतर हे जे आठ दिवस मी सलग येत होतो ते अशा ओढीनी येत होतो की आज मला नवीन काहीतरी करायला मिळणार, काहीतरी नवीन शिकायला मिळणार, आणि खरंच इथे आल्यानंतर आम्हाला जो टास्क दिला जायचा त्यातून मला दरवेळी एक नवीन गोष्ट शिकायला मिळाली. सगळ्यात महत्त्वाची गोष्ट म्हणजे प्रत्येक कार्याचे नियोजन कसं असावं? या नियोजनाची अंमलबजावणी कशी करावी? ती करत असताना ती एकट्याने करायची नाहीये, तर ती आपल्या सहकाऱ्यांच्या बरोबर, टीमवर्क करायचं आहे. इथे संघकार्य म्हणजे एकत्र येऊन केलेलं कार्य हे महत्त्वाचं आहे, हे मी शिकलो. कारण एकट्याने काम आपण नेहमी करतो पण जेव्हा चार विचारांची

लोकं एकत्र येऊन कार्य करतात त्यावेळी त्यांच्यामध्ये, त्यांच्या विचारांमध्ये एकी निर्माण करणं आणि त्यातून कार्य साधणं हे नियोजनातून साध्य होते. हे मला दीपस्तंभच्या या शिबिरातून शिकायला मिळालं.

दुसरी महत्त्वाची गोष्ट की इथं मला राधाताई, शर्वरीताई, आदर्शदादा, विशालदादा, नाना, गौरवदादा, शिवांश, लक्ष्मण काका, आनंद सर, चिन्मयदादा यासारखे छान मित्र मिळाले. सगळे जण आमच्यातलेच एक होऊन आम्हाला सगळं काही शिकवत होते. हा माझा इथला एक खूप चांगला छान सांगण्यासारखा अनुभव आहे.

खर तर स्कूल संसदच्या माध्यमातून मी या संस्थेची जोडले गेलो आणि तिथून सुरू झालेला प्रवास हा उपायन या डोनेशन कॅम्प पर्यंत येऊन पोहोचला.

उपायन बदल उत्सुकता होती. मग कळले की उपायन म्हणजे भेटीच्या स्वरूपात दिलेलं दान. अहाहा ! किती सुंदर अर्थ. खरंतर आपण प्रत्येकाला काही देतो, पण ते देताना, मी याला काहीतरी देतोय ही अहंकाराची भावना, अभिमानाची भावना ज्यावेळी मनामध्ये येते त्यावेळी ते दान राहत नाही. म्हणून भेट द्यावी कारण भेट ही आनंददायक असते. देणाऱ्यासाठी आणि घेणाऱ्यासाठी सुद्धा. यासाठी जाणीवपूर्वक या शिबिराला नाव देण्यात आले उपायन. अशा आनंददायी शिबिरात मला सहभागी होता आले हे माझ्यासाठी आनंददायी होतं.

कॅम्पच्या संपूर्ण दिवसामध्ये इतक्या मोठ्या प्रमाणात जेव्हा भेटदान आम्हाला मिळत होतं, त्यावेळी देखील जे नियोजन केलं गेलं ते अतिशय उत्तम प्रकारच होतं. अतिशय वेगवेगळे प्रकारची डोनेशन्स इथे आले, अगदी मोठ्या प्रमाणात आले, पण योग्य नियोजनामुळे, टीम वर्कमुळे ते योग्य वेळी, योग्य ठिकाणी पोहचत होतं. सर्व प्रकारच्या वस्तू योग्य ठिकाणी नियोजनबद्ध पद्धतीने त्या त्या ठिकाणी वेळच्यावेळी गेल्या. अनेक लोकं यातून जोडली गेली.

सगळ्यात महत्वाचं म्हणजे डोनेशन ऑफ जॉय. वस्तू तर आपण देतोच, पण आनंदाचं सुद्धा दान देता आलं पाहिजे, हे मी उपायन मधून शिकलो. म्हणजे आपण आनंद घेतोच, पण आपण जसा आनंद घेतो तसा आपल्याला आनंद वाटता आला पाहिजे, इतरांना तो देता आला पाहिजे ही समाजसुखाची जाणीव मला या कॅम्पमधून झाली.

यातूनच विं.दा.करंदीकरांच्या ओळी मला आठवल्या.

देणान्याने देत जावे|घेणान्याने घेत जावे|
घेणान्याने एके दिवशी| देणान्याचे हात घ्यावे||

असं जर काही मला या शिबिरातून घेता आलं, माझ्याकडून भविष्यात कोणाला देता आलं...तर मी स्वतःला नक्कीच भाग्यवान समजेन. धन्यवाद.

A truly amazing initiative that shows the power of giving. With 14 types of donations—be it blood, clothes or more. It spreads happiness by fulfilling real needs.

It was a tremendous experience for me to volunteer at this full-day camp. Spreading joy around us, it reminded me that giving is the greatest joy!

यावर्षीच्या उपायन उपक्रमाचे एक खास वैशिष्ट्य म्हणजे समर कॅम्प. इयत्ता ८वी आणि ९वीच्या मुलांना दानाचं महत्त्व प्रत्यक्ष अनुभवता आलं.

संपूर्ण अवेअरनेस ॲक्टिव्हिटीमध्ये या मुलांनी उत्स्फूर्त सहभाग घेतला. १५ दिवसांच्या शिबिरात “अनोळखी माणसाशी कसे बोलावे?” असा प्रश्न डोळ्यासमोर असणारी हीच मुले, आता “मी सर्वांना माहिती देतो/देते” अशा आत्मविश्वासाने संवाद साधताना पाहून खरंच समाधान वाटतं.

अनोळखी माणसांशी मनमोकळेपणाने संवाद साधत, त्यांना सामाजिक परिस्थितीबद्दल जागरूक करत, त्यांच्या मनात सकारात्मक विचार रुजवणे — यापेक्षा मोठं शिक्षण दुसरं कुठलं असू शकतं? या शिबिराने केवळ ज्ञान दिलं नाही, तर मनात धैर्य, संवादकौशल्य आणि सामाजिक जाणिवा जागवण्याचं काम केलं. ‘दान ही केवळ वस्तूची नव्हे, तर विचारांची आणि वेळेचीही असते’ हे मुलांना समजलं, आणि त्यांनी ते कृतीत उतरवलं.

आज ही मुले केवळ आत्मविश्वासाने ओतप्रोत नाहीत, तर सामाजिक बदलाचे छोटे वाहकदेखील बनले आहेत. उद्याचं नेतृत्व हीच मुले करणार, आणि त्यांची वाटचाल उपायनपासून सुरू झाली, याचा आपल्या सर्वांना अभिमान आहे.
